

almost the entire morning doing that. Of course in the morning I did my regular chores, got breakfast, fixing the fire and going down after the mail and reading the morning paper and all that, just as usual.

Q Do you remember giving the Egers any bluefish before the dinner and participating in the eating of it, or was this a rare occasion?

A I might have done it for years, but not very often.

Q Was this the first time that year, 1922?

A I think that was the first time they ever cooked a bluefish for me. I won't say for certain at that, because we often caught them other years; but when we came in for dinner--

MR. PFEIFFER: On Saturday?

A On Saturday, - well on Saturday morning, - here is something else. On Saturday morning I received a night letter telegram from Mrs. Stevens who was in New York, in which she said "Come up on Tuesday (Tuesday would have been the 19th ) come up on Tuesday, stay till Thursday, take in ball games." She has that telegram yet and she knows whose writing it is in and she knows the man that brought it to me and all that. The man's name is Austin, the agent, and he brought it up to me and found me in the garage that morning.
